Madison-Venice apartment plan for aged is proposed

A plan under which two of the present housing developments in the Madison-Venice area would be designated for rental by senior citizens only was advanced by the Madison County Housing Authority at its annual meeting Thursday night. The plan was submitted to the authority by Madison Mayor Mike Saab, Mrs. Dorothy Bridick, president of the Madison Senior Citizens Club, Clarence Green, a past president, and Lester Cook.

The board authorized a feasibility study of housing units to determine which of the developments could best be adapted for rental to senior citizens.

If the study indicates the project is feasible, the authority would select the two buildings for senior citizen rental that would be most likely to provide greater privacy and security for the elderly.

The Madison County Housing Authority operates Grenzer Homes and Garesche Homes in Madison and Venice Homes, Lee Wright Homes and Viola Jones Homes in Venice.

In the meeting in the housing authority offices at Market Street and Washington Avenue, Madison, the board members reappointed Edward Foley as executive director. It will be Foley's second year in the position.

A letter of commendation was approved, congratulating Village Patrolman Neely "Chet" Bailey for completing the basic law enforcement program at Belleville Area College with a high grade point average.

kitchen cabinets to replace shelves, relocation of electric lines underground and rearrangement of water lines.

Lawrence T. Hartman was hired as the housing authority attorney for the coming year.

The Housing and Research Development department of the University of Illinois, under the direction of Robert Calcedo, director, and A. Kaha, architect, are assisting the authority in studying ways to improve recreation and parking facilities.

William Pistrul, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting. Members attending were Donald Parrish Sr., Manuel Kastins and Reese Hoskins. Robert Wehling was absent due to illness.

The Madison County Housing Authority meets regularly at 7:30 p.m. on the third Thursday of every month.

to provide technical assistance in getting pumps back into operation.

The pumps were being used to pump seawater onto the lava flow to keep it from reaching the town and harbor.

Baker's recommendations were acted upon, and the government of Iceland extended its gratitude and appreciation to the Army Troop Support Command for assistance in saving the village. The command was praised for providing technical assistance and expediting action on requisitions for items needed.

In April of this year, Baker was sent at the request of the U.S. Army Materiel command to the remote island of Heimay off the southern coast of Iceland

Assignment to Belleville district sets stage for college service here

(Related article on Page 4) Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts territory was placed tentatively Friday within the boundaries of the Belleville Area College, whose campus is at 2500 Carlyle Road.

The assignment is expected to be presented formally for action at the Dec. 14 meeting of the Illinois Community College Board, and is to become final on June 30, 1974.

The action is expected to assure continuation of most of the Quad-City adult education programs currently administered by the three school systems.

A separate local college district was rejected 7-1 by the ICCB on Friday.

Belleville Area College authorities have indicated that they will establish a local college district and accept instruction in the Quad-Cities at an early date.

Local schools' power to levy a special tax for college purposes (used to pay the tuition of Quad-Cityans attending existing colleges) expires June 30, simultaneously with the annexation to BAC.

The special tax will be replaced by the BAC tax, currently 20.9 cents.

The ICCB also indicated Friday it will add Collinsville, Triad and Highland school territory to the Belleville district.

Edwardsville will remain in the Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey, Lewis and Clark is to annex the Mount Olive, Greenville, Carlinville and North Greene school districts.

State Community College at East St. Louis, financed and largely governed by the state at present, will be made partly self-supporting and partly self-governing, the ICCB said Friday.

It will be given several years in which to attempt to succeed as a separate district. If this fails, it then is expected to be annexed by BAC, whose newly designated boundaries surround East St. Louis.

Valuation totals include $517 million for BAC at present, $277 million Quad-Cities and $203 million East St. Louis.

Among those attending Friday's meeting were Granite City School Supt. Bob J. Davis; George Moore Sr., a member of the Granite City Board of Education and head of the Illinois Association of School Boards Division; and Attorney Leo H. Konzen.

Konzen, chairman of a local junior college study group, addressed the ICCB, noting Quad-Cityans' long record of providing varied secondary and

Dr. Lee stricken

Dr. John E. Lee Jr., 51, mayor of Venice, suffered a paralytic stroke at his home at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and is in critical condition and in a coma today at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

President of the First National Bank in Madison and a practicing dentist, Dr. Lee began feeling ill Saturday but accepted several dental patients that day.

He was watching a televised football game yesterday when he called out to his wife, Margaret. Saying he felt like he might be in the early stages of a stroke, he asked that an ambulance be called.

Dr. Lee was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital here and then was transferred at 7:30 p.m. Sunday to Barnes Hospital.

Mayor Lee was elected to his fifth consecutive four-year term as Venice mayor this April. His father, a medical doctor, was mayor of the 100-year-old municipality from 1911 through 1915 and continuously from 1917 until his death in 1941.

The dental office of Dr. Lee Jr. is situated at 4014 Madison Ave., Madison, and he has been an active political leader in Venice Township (Madison-Venice).

Born in Venice, he is a lifelong resident. Attending St. Mark's School in Venice, St. Louis University High School and then St. Louis U. and its Dental School, he received the degrees of bachelor of science and doctor of dental surgery. He is active in St. Mark's Catholic Church, St. Mark's Men's Organization and the Knights of Columbus.

Other affiliations include the American Legion, Venice Lions Club, Venice Crippled Children's Association, Venice Homecoming Association, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Doctor opposed to total abortion ban

A list of St. Elizabeth Hospital Medical Staff members submitted to the Press-Record last week, including the name of Dr. Luis Ventura, should not have named him, he said Friday afternoon.

The group listed was described as opposing "the idea of abortion on demand" here.

Dr. Ventura's letter Friday related, "The issue of Nov. 15 of your paper has me a co-sponsor to a resolution 'completely opposed to the idea of abortion on demand in the Granite City area'."

"The truth is I did not sign it, and when someone called me about it I told him I could not sign because it would be ambiguous for me to do so. I shall try to explain my position on this issue here."

"Whereas I unmistakably deplore and condemn the abuses of abortion on demand as being a promoter of sexual promiscuity, I also feel that there are instances in which an abortion is justified."

"Perhaps I am in need of reassessing my own sense of values. Who knows? It may be that the position taken by the Catholic Church is right."

"However, without any degree of flamboyance, I submit that as a thinking man and as a physician, my judgment cannot be clouded with religious premises in dealing with the harsh realities of a cruel world," Dr. Ventura continued.

"I am thinking right now of a 12-year-old girl raped by her own father and subsequently becoming pregnant. I would not hesitate for a minute to recommend an 'abortion on demand'."

"I am also thinking of a mother who already has two mongoloid children. She is pregnant again. She fears another retarded. Her physician refers her to Chicago."

"The amniotic fluid is examined. The fetus has the typical chromosomal changes of Mongolism. I would not hesitate to recommend 'abortion on demand'."

"Yet, in both of these instances, an abortion on demand would be unthinkable in many quarters."

"Who is right? I do not know. Do they?"

Honor volcano fighter

Willard R. Baker, 222 Sunny Shores, Mitchell, has received the Army's second highest award for civilian service.

The commander of the Army Troop Support Command, (TROSCOM), Major General Hugh R. Higgins, in presenting Baker with the Meritorious Civilian Service Medal, commended him for his "extraordinary service to the government of Iceland in helping to save the town of Vestmannaeyjar from the destructive lava flow of an erupting volcano."

Baker, a graduate of Clarkston, Mo., High School, is a veteran of World War II. He previously earned the Vietnam Medal for Civilian Service while employed as a TROSCOM equipment specialist on temporary duty in Vietnam.

Having served in a combat zone, Baker has experienced danger. But the sense of awe he felt at his first sight of the first erupting volcano Kirkjufell left an indelible impression, accentuated as he remembers by viewing "the most impressive ruins I have ever witnessed."

In April of this year, Baker was sent at the request of the U.S. Army Materiel command to the remote island of Heimay off the southern coast of Iceland to provide technical assistance in getting pumps back into operation.

The pumps were being used to pump seawater onto the lava flow to keep it from reaching the town and harbor.

Milestones in Belleville College history—'46, '66

Belleville Area College, whose district is to include the Quad-Cities, is approved as a Class I community college by six agencies and boards.

They are the Illinois Community College Board, State Board of Higher Education, Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation, Office of the Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction, Veterans' Administration for the training of veterans and the U.S. State Department for instruction of foreign students.

BAC is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Illinois Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the American Association of Junior Colleges and the Council of North Central Junior Colleges.

The seven-member Board of Trustees is composed of Frederick E. Lutz, chairman, and Theodore F. Gundlach, Richard W. Hilgard, Joseph P. Keck Jr., Edward P. O'Malley, Orison R. Seibert and Milton D. Smith.

Dr. H. J. Haberaecker is president of Belleville Area College.

The Administrative Council consists of President Haberaecker and Robert W. Clark, Gordon R. Stone, Clyde I. Washburn, Ar. J. Woods, Wayne J. Stumpf, Warren E. Nieburg, Vincent S. Margerum, Lloyd Gentry, Bruce R. Wissors and William R. Keel.

Belleville Area College came a reality on Oct. 29, 1966, when citizens of the area passed a referendum to establish a Class I Junior College under authority granted by the state of Illinois. It became operational in 1967, when the elected board assumed control.

The College looks back with pride to a history of twenty years under the name of Belleville Junior College.

The Board of Education, District 201, established the College in September 1946 in conjunction with Belleville Township High School, which had been in existence since 1917.

The first graduating class, June 1948, numbered 48.

As a direct result of strong community interest in the opportunity for higher education, the College grew both in size and influence, expanding the curriculum, enlarging the evening program, initiating a summer session, and adding a nursing program in 1958.

The North Central Association granted full accreditation in 1961.

In the fall of 1965, the College acquired an identity of its own by moving to a new campus on West Boulevard, to be joined by Belleville Township High School East one year later.

Transition to Class I status was achieved through the contributions of many people—boards of education, administrators of the College; high schools and grade schools; faculty members; members of Parent-Teacher Associations; individual citizens; and the student body of the College.

The College provided additional occupational programs in September 1967 to meet community needs.

In 1971, BAC occupied its new 150-acre campus at the intersection of Route 161 and Green Mount Road.

PHILOSOPHY.

The faculty, administration and board of Belleville Area College acknowledge a triple obligation:

To the free society of which, as an institution of higher learning, it is a mirror and a guardian;

To the citizens of the district and of the state, "under whose authority we function and whose changing needs we seek to know and serve"; and to the individual student "who brings to our open door his varied gifts, needs and ambitions."

A BAC statement adds, "We believe that the community college is an institution uniquely adapted—by virtue of its nearness to the grass-roots—to the fulfillment of these complex obligations."

"We hold that the social objectives of community college education are totally consistent with the aspirations of the individual for himself and, indeed, that their realization is dependent on his cultivation as a person."

"Although education is a group process, we are concerned primarily with the individual, to whom we owe not only instruction and constructive evaluation, but also respect, guidance and stimulation in the achievement of his proper objectives."

OBJECTIVE.

"In the light of this philosophy, our aim must relate to the achievement of the student's goals and to the manifestations of his continuing growth."

1. "In self-realization: to gain knowledge of his abilities in relation to his goals.

2. "In human relationships: to develop an understanding of group dynamics, thereby increasing his ability to live comfortably with himself and with others.

3. "In awareness and appreciation: to understand his own culture and its characteristic expressions; to view objectively times and places other than his own.

4. In economic efficiency: to become self-sustaining through preparation for vocational placement and growth.

5. "In civic responsibility: to form an awareness of his duties as a citizen in developing the techniques of social participation.

FUNCTION.

"In the light of this philosophy and this objective, the College conceives its function to be the offering of the following:

1. "Academic courses and curricula capable of meeting the requirement of four-year institutions.

2. "Technical, vocational and occupational curricula leading directly to employment.

3. "Flexible two-year programs in general education not oriented toward four-year institutions.

4. "Cultural activities and adult education courses of varied character and duration, not conceived as parts of any curricula.

5. "Preparatory and refresher courses designed to qualify students for any of the College curricula.

6. "Effective guidance and counseling aimed at finding suitable and rewarding programs for the student and the prospective student."

Belleville Area College endeavors to serve all who can benefit from education beyond the high school level."

An applicant is admitted by (1) a certificate of graduation (transcript) from an accredited secondary school, (2) transfer from another college or university, (3) examination or (4) special permission if part-time or unclassified.

1. By certificate: Properly qualified graduates of accredited secondary schools may be admitted as freshmen by fulfilling the following conditions:

a. Applications must be made on forms supplied by the College Director of Admissions.

b. Applicants for a college-transfer program shall present a minimum of 15 units of acceptable high school work including not less than three units of English and specific preparation for the curriculum elected. Not less than four of the 15 units should be nonacademic work ordinarily accepted by an accredited secondary school toward a diploma.

c. Applicants who are graduates of an accredited high school, but fall short of presenting 15 acceptable units for the curricula in which they plan to enroll are admitted on condition. The condition must be re-evaluated the first year of college study.

d. Applicants from high school must have transcripts for their high school records and ACT scores sent to the College Admissions Office at the time of application. Final approval for registration cannot be granted until such records are on file.

2. By transfer: Applicants for admission who since graduation from high school have been enrolled in accredited institutions for higher education may be admitted with advanced standing under the following conditions:

a. All requirements for admission to the College must be fulfilled.

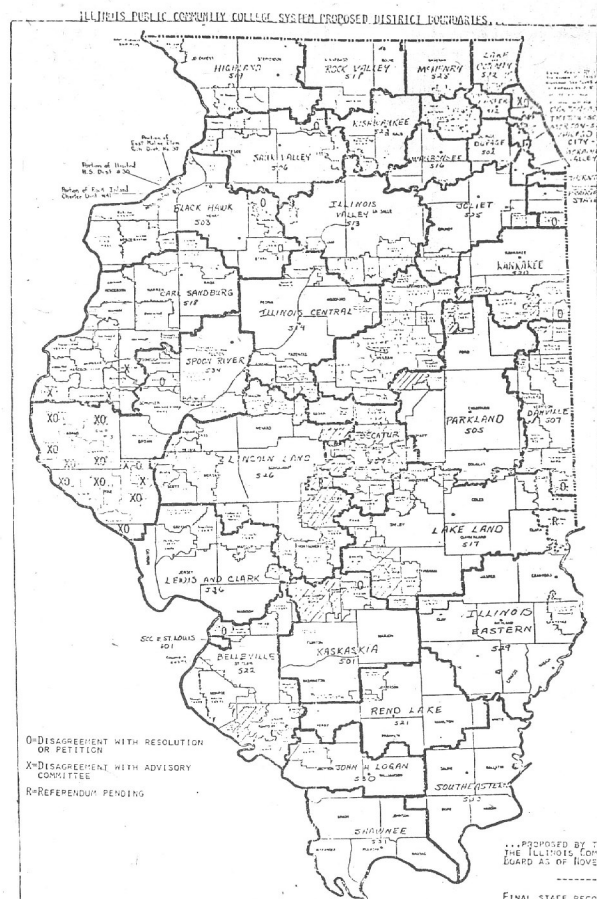

b. An official transcript from each institution previously attended is required. Transcripts must be submitted by the registrars of the colleges or universities previously attended and will not be accepted if submitted by applicants.

c. Applicants transferring from other institutions with a record of unsatisfactory academic achievement may be admitted but will be placed on scholastic probation.

d. By examination: Mature persons who have not graduated from high school may be admitted as unclassified students if the results of college entrance tests indicate they are qualified to pursue the desired courses.

e. By special authorization: Mature persons who wish to take college courses on a part-time basis with or without the intention of applying credit toward a degree may be admitted as unclassified students.

Admission to classified status may be accomplished by satisfying the regular admission requirements or by furnishing ample evidence of satisfactory college level achievement.

Venice teachers ask court to halt lunch hour cuts

Twenty-one Venice elementary school teachers and their American Federation of Teachers union local have petitioned the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville for a restraining order to stop the Venice school district from continuing reduced lunch periods.

Both Superintendent John Pier and the District 3 Board of Education are named respondents.

The teachers allege the board has ordered lunch periods reduced by 10 to 25 minutes each and has not compensated teachers for the free time lost. Lunch periods formerly ranged from 40 to 55 minutes.

The teachers contend the shortening of the periods without permission from the teachers constitutes a breach of the working agreement between the union and the school district.

They seek a preliminary injunction to restrain the

South ends season with exciting 14-14 tie at Belleville

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
Varsity football at its best was witnessed Friday night by all who jammed into the Belleville-West Stadium to watch the regular season finale between West, the Southwestern Conference leader, and third place Warriors of GCHS South.

Trailing 14-6 early in the third period, the Warriors rallied to tie the game at 14-14 on a Tom Schooley touchdown and a two-point conversion catch by Tight

A great defensive battle followed, neither team was able to score again, and the game ended in a deadlock at 14-14. The Maroons of West got on the scoreboard first in the opening minutes of the game on a five yard end zone dash by Mike Dinga.

West had taken a Warrior fourth down punt on Granite's 43 yard line and in nine plays, Quarterback Rusty Lisch had moved the ball down to the five where he handed off to Dinga for the score. The extra point kick by Doug Dobbs was perfect and West grabbed a 7-0 lead.

With a little more than three minutes left in the first half, the Warriors took possession on their own 23 and Quarterback Dave Dombek, enroute to the 1,000 yard mark in passing, moved his team in 10 downs to West's 29. There he released a bomb which hit Smith at the 20. Smith was downed at the enemy's seven.

Three plays later, South had gained only a yard to West's 49, before the ball was handed to Dale Williams who slammed through the left side of the line to paydirt. The extra point kick was wide to the left and West commanded a slim one point lead at halftime.

Belleville struggled back up to its lead to 14-6 after receiving the Warriors' second half kickoff West's 16. Maroon Terry Mohr took the kick and returned it to his 33 yard line. Lisch picked up the pace immediately with a one yard pass to Doug Greiman who scrambled all the way to the Warriors' 15.

A Granite City offense penalty gave West another five and Lisch hit Tim Katznark with a screen pass at the six yard line.

The Maroon's leading rusher, Joe Holtgrewe, playing with an injured ankle, took the handoff from Lisch and carried it in. Dobbs again connected on the extra point and West appeared headed for a runaway with a 14-6 score.

South failed to move past the enemy's 44 on a series of downs and Walt Milton's fourth down punt actually started a series of events leading to the Warriors' game tying touchdown and conversion run.

Milton's kick hit the 10-yard marker, took a South roll, and went out of bounds to put the Maroon's with their back to the wall at the one yard line.

Granite City's defensive line held West to a one yard gain in two plays, forcing a third down passing situation which ended in the hands of South's Doug Griffith on the enemy's seven. Williams carried the ball three times but failed to get past the one, putting the Warriors in a fourth down and inches to go situation. Dombek, on a keeper, met a strong Belleville defense which refused to yield, giving the Maroons possession on their own six-inch mark.

A fired-up South defense held Belleville to nine yards in three carries and a delay of game penalty against West forced a fourth down punt from the five which ended on the 23.

South, rallying behind its defensive effort, moved to West's seven on a pass from Dombek to Schooley and then to the five on a quarterback keep. With 36 seconds left in the quarter, Williams, on a half-back option, ran to the left and released the touchdown pass to Schooley in the end zone. He repeated the play to Smith for an additional two points and a 14-14 tie.

West Quarterback Rusty Lisch nearly scored twice in the final period but great efforts by Keith Hollis, David Ruebhausen, Tim Killian, Mike Moran, Kevin Hollis, Doug Griffith and Doug Hartman thwarted the attempts.

Dead silence covered the playing field with 34 seconds left in the game as Lisch, with the ball on South's 45, spun and twisted away from five would-be tacklers, made his way to the 28 and set up a Belleville field goal attempt in a last-ditch effort to add another game to its undefeated record.

Dobbs, kicking from the Warriors' 25, booted the ball out of the holder's hands with three seconds showing on the clock. A sigh of relief poured from Warrior fans as the ball fell short of its goal by only inches.

The Maroons led the Warriors in rushing with a total of 173 yards as compared to South's 108. West Quarterback Rusty Lisch led his team in yards gained with 104 and Dale Williams picked up 70 of South total. Williams was also the leading punt returner, three for 60 yards.

Granite City had a total of 109 yards in the air with Ray Smith making 5 receptions for 60 yards. Belleville gained only 65 yards in passing, one of which was a 51 yard gain by Doug Greiman.

South's Warriors earned 24 first downs to Belleville's 19 and led the host team in loss of yardage with 18 to the Maroons' 5.

Granite City maintained its edge in the season win-loss column with the tied game. South is now 5-1 (4-2) in conference action and Belleville-West, picking up its first tie of the season, maintained its undefeated status at 0-1. West will meet the Flyers of East St. Louis Thursday for the Southwestern Conference Championship title.

Holiday grid battle pits Maroons, Flyers

Belleville-West and the East St. Louis Flyers head into the Holiday Day Southwestern Conference grid showdown Thursday at Parson's Field in East St. Louis. The teams are in a 5-0 record deadlock after weekend action.

East St. Louis posted a 7-6 victory over Belleville East Saturday afternoon to move into a first place tie with the Maroons of West. The Belleville team had played to a 14-14 tie Friday with Granite City.

This year's classic holiday clash will be the last as Illinois will initiate state-wide playoffs next year. The annual event goes back to 1935. Since then the Flyers have recorded 44 victories and West only 11.

Granite City maintained its third place spot with a 4-2-1 conference record and Collinsville (now Seventh) and Cahokia (eighth) switched places in the standings after the Kahoks posted a 35-6 win Friday at Cahokia.

Alton Marquette finished the season undefeated after traveling Friday night to Duquenois (St. Charles, Mo.) and battling the host team to a 20-20 tie in a non-conference action. Failing to pull a perfect season out of the bag, the Marquette Explorers end up with a 9-0-1 record.

Schmitt evaluates mat prospects

GCHS South Wrestling Coach Bill Schmitt faces his 24th year as the Warriors' head mentor as the team prepares for the 1973-74 season which begins Saturday, Dec. 1, at home. Schmitt evaluated some of the problems the team faces, then listed his prospects for overcoming them.

"Most of our opposing schools are in pretty good shape," Schmitt said. "In fact, Collinsville has its entire team from last year returning."

"We lost two lettermen to the new GCHS North, along with almost our entire second team."

The two senior lettermen acquired by North in the school district split are heavyweights John McMillon who had a season record of 18-1-0, and 130-pounder Chess Pitter.

The Warriors have seven returning lettermen on this year's squad, six seniors and one junior.

Phil Lapinski who last year as a 105 pound junior, earned district and sectional crowns, was fourth in the state, had the most team victories with 67, including four pins, lost five matches and accumulated 125½ points. He will weigh in about 121-119 pounds this year.

Lapinski earned fourth in the state by defeating Evergreen Park 7-3, losing to Joliet Central 2-4, winning a 4-4 decision over St. Charles, pinning his Peoria Woodruff opponent in 3:48, downing Maine West 2-0 and then in his bid for third, lost to Bob Schmidt of East Moline 1-3.

John Niebur, who last year at 112 pounds was conference and district and sectional champion, captured fifth in state and had a record of 32-7-1.

In that controversial state match, Niebur trailing 3-4 to Yorkville's Gary Matlock in a fourth round escape, and Page both competed in summer wrestling programs and were champions in their respective classes in last year's Sophomore Tournament. Caschetta also was a member of the Illinois state team which competed this year against Oregon State.

"Our toughest opponent last year was Belleville West," remarks Schmitt, "and it looks as if they will be tough again this season."

"It's going to be a job to keep our consecutive winning streak going," he adds "but we still have talent in the 155, 167, 185 and heavyweight classes coming from the football team who have not yet reported to training."

Weighting in at 138 pounds, six years last season, is Dan Heath, who posted a 23-13-1 record, was district champion, second in the sectional meet and had an impressive record of 21-8-1.

7-6 win for North frosh

The freshmen of GCHS North and GCHS South met on a muddy and windy battlefield Thursday afternoon in the first frosh football clash between the two schools and the last game of the season for both squads. The Steelers of North finished the season with a near perfect 7-1 record after winning 7-6 over the South Warriors.

North made its only score early in the first quarter when Mickey Smith topped a 50-yard drive with a 16-yard end zone dash and Quarterback Greg Cory kicked the extra point.

South bounced back in the second period on a TD by John Smith but failed in an attempt for a two-point conversion. The whole second half was a defensive battle which was fought between the two 20-yard lines.

North Coach Ron Yates told the Press-Record, "Superior defensive efforts won the ball game for us."

Essington optimistic about Red Devil squad

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
From Venice to Dupu, on to Vandalia, Charleston and Champaign spanned the Red Devils route last season to third place honors in the Illinois State Class A basketball finals with 11th year Coach Bill Ohlendorf as the head mentor. Now, with a new coach, Venice fans are hopeful of reliving the thrills of last year.

With one of the smallest enrollments (185) and winning records (29-1) of all the schools in the state Class A tournament, Venice had defeated Brooklyn 54-46 to win the Dupu Regional, earning the right to advance to the Vandalia Sectional. At Vandalia, the Red Devils topped Nokomis 48-40 and Mississippi Valley Conference champ Triad 64-38 to go on to the Charleston Super-Sectional on March 13.

Led by all-state candidate Ron Henry, who was averaging 25 points a game, Venice rolled over Marshall High 71-46 to earn berth in the Class A State Championship games at Champaign. Henry was complimented in the starting lineup by Sonny Wiley, Dan Seivers, Tony Sittion, and Ray Mosby. At the University of Illinois at Champaign, the Red Devils defeated Bloomington Central Catholic 55-53 in the first round before suffering their second defeat of the season the next day 34-46 at the hands of defense-minded Kaneland.

The only other Venice loss was its regular season ending game against Sumner (St. Louis) after 24 consecutive Red Devil victories.

Before a statewide television audience the Red Devils captured third place state honors with a 73-66 decision over St. Anne.

Center Ron Henry was chosen for a position on the all-state team, and Coach Ohlendorf commented, "We had a magnificent team attitude all year." He added, "This won't be the last time we'll be at Champaign."

Now, eight months later, Ohlendorf is the new coach mentor at GCHS North and the Red Devils' new coach, Richard Essington, will attempt to make the former coach's statement come true.

Essington, whose basketball career spans from Venice High to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, began his coaching career at Central High (Aviston-Brees) last year.

"Coach Ohlendorf was my head mentor here at Venice so I had a real good teacher," he said. "I think, barring any injuries, with a little luck we'll do as good a job as we did last year. There is always the problem of hitting the wrong ball club on the wrong night, it all depends on how much luck a team is going to have."

"This team consists of good kids who love basketball. With some of the individuals here, we probably have some of the best talent Venice has ever seen," Essington predicted.

Returning starters from last year's squad are Ron Henry and Tony Sittion.

"Henry," says the head coach, "at 6'7", is the biggest player Venice has ever had. Just about every major college in the country is after him."

"Sittion, who also is a good college prospect, is a fine shooter, has good range, and can really control things on the court."

Supporting the two will be J.B. Harmon, 6 foot senior forward, junior Mike Henry, a 6'4" forward, and sophomore Reggie Gardner, 5'10" guard.

"Harmon is a strong forward, has great shooting and leaping ability," notes Essington. "Henry is very quick with the hands and Gardner is probably one of the best sophomores to come to Venice. He is blessed with a great deal of talent."

"A couple of the other boys who will probably see action are Jeff Corrie at Guard and Mike Logan. Corrie should really help us on the sagging zone defense and Logan has good ability going to the board. Wherever you see the ball is where you'll find Logan," he said.

Essington does not think the team will have any trouble putting the ball through the hoop because he believes some players can score 20 points on any given night.

"We will be better offensively just because of our shooting abilities. If we also can play good defense, we are going to be real tough."

Remarking that the Red Devils will use the man-on-man defense and full court press he stated, "I don't believe in the zone. Maybe in a given situation against a 6'11" player we might sag a little out of the man-on-man, but otherwise we'll go with the basic match-up."

"The transition from an experienced coach like Ohlendorf to a new coach like myself has been good," notes Essington. "Having originated from here I know most of the kids on the team very well. Coupled with our relationship and the team's love of basketball, we'll do a good job," he concluded.

Soccer Cougars seek national college title

The SIUE soccer team will begin its quest for a Division I National Collegiate Athletic Association championship when the Cougars open the Midwest Regional Tournament Saturday against Northern Illinois University at 2 p.m. on Cougar Field.

Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE kickers, rated second in the nation, are seeded second in the four-team tournament, while Northern Illinois is seeded third.

The tourney's other two teams, first-seeded and nationally top-ranked St. Louis U. and fourth-ranked Bowling Green State U. of Ohio, will square off in the other first-round game.

Winners of first-round games will meet in the Midwest championship match either Dec. 9 or 9 at a site to be determined, depending on the preference of the winner of the Bowling Green-St. Louis match.

Bilkent Coach Harry Kough has indicated that if SLU reaches the final, it wishes to play Sunday, Dec. 9, at Cougar Field. If Bowling Green should win, it probably would choose to play on its home field in Ohio.

The winner of the Midwest Regional earns the right to participate in the national tournament, which begins Jan. 2 at Miami, Fla.

Constructive compromise puts needed spotlight on developmental disabilities

Substitution of compromise for confrontation has led to a reasonable settlement of the dispute over whether there should be a separate state department to handle programs for the retarded.

The Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded has long contended, apparently with justification, that the retarded did not get proper attention from the Department of Mental Health, which is concerned primarily with mental illness.

It was Gov. Daniel Walker's contention, however, that a separate department would be unnecessarily costly, and there's validity to that argument.

Gov. Neil Hartigan, who had himself successfully promoted a new Department on Aging, got in to the act and worked out a compromise agreed to by the governor, the sponsors of the legislation which the governor had vetoed, and the Association for the Mentally Retarded.

The compromise calls for appointment within the Department of Mental Health of a deputy director and seven regional coordinators who will oversee the developmental disabilities functions of the department. The name of the department is expanded to Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities. Gov. Walker also agreed to speed up release of $10 million in supplemental appropriations for mental retardation and to the movement of retarded persons out of mental hospitals to facilities for the retarded.

Maybe this can set a pattern for compromise on other issues such as tax relief or the regional transit authority for the Chicago area.

Watergate misuse of political campaign funds provides lesson for Illinois

Joseph T. Meek, a lobbyist in the Illinois General Assembly for 40 years and once a candidate for the U.S. Senate, has told the state Senate in a simple, straightforward way why ethics legislation is needed.

He cited how tough it was to solicit funds for his campaign in 1954 and how he had to accept money from people who he was reasonably sure would want something in return. He told how he received an offer of a contribution of $200,000 if he would pledge to vote the way Sherman Adams, then chief aide to President Eisenhower, wanted him to vote on every issue.

Nevertheless, his plea for action seemed to be shunned by a big share of the senators whose principal concern is what will happen to their own campaign contributions if disclosure laws are passed.

The senators contend their constituents aren't concerned about this issue, basing this on the fact that constituents haven't been writing letters about it to the legislators.

What the senators don't seem to understand, or don't want to admit, is that the biggest share of the Watergate scandal results from the collection and misuse of political campaign funds. And the people certainly are concerned about that. It's axiomatic that the person or group which makes big campaign contributions — whether it be in a race for the state Senate or for the U.S. presidency — is going to expect and in most cases get better treatment than the person or group which does not contribute.

If persons or groups are going to buy influence with officeholders in that fashion, they should at least have to be identified so the citizenry can know who holds the purse strings over their elected officials. For some, who depend on state contracts for their livelihood, contributing to campaigns is mandatory if they want to stay in business. The people could see that plainly if a sound political contributions disclosure law were in effect. If those who failed to contribute were being cut out of contracts, it would be obvious.

Sen. Hudson Sours, R-Peoria, one of the leading opponents of income and campaign disclosure laws, asked Meek if any law can ever make a bad man into a good man. Meek answered him superbly, saying, "No, but it can make it a lot tougher for him to be a bad man."

If we followed Sours' thesis in asking this question — the idea that because a law can't change an individual we shouldn't pass a law — we would have a totally lawless society. A law forbidding drunk driving won't prevent every intoxicated man from getting behind the wheel, but it can serve to discourage drunk driving by providing penalties for the offense. Likewise, laws establishing governmental political ethics can carry penalties for those who violate them.

Meek gave the senators good advice when he told them, "You've got to put wisdom before wealth, confidence before cash."

We hope he's convinced a majority of them, because only by bringing campaign practices out into the daylight and throwing a spotlight on the financial practices of candidates and officeholders can the confidence of the people in government be restored.

Drop in unemployment noted along with helpful cooling of inflated economy

ALMOST LOST in recent headlines on the persistent national trauma of Watergate and the renewed tensions in the Middle East was a tiny bit of encouraging news.

The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 4.5 per cent, the lowest figure since early 1970. The announcement by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics beat President Nixon's goal of achieving that "acceptable" figure by the end of the year.

Of particular significance was the indication that the target was met while other statistics showed evidence of cooling of the inflated economy.

'Education of President' now includes how soybeans are raised in Illinois

THERE was a bit of Illinois history made at the White House recently in a chapter that could well be titled "The Education of A President."

U.S. Rep. Paul Findley and Miss Christy Reed of Western Illinois University, symbolic soybean queen of the state, presented the President with a necktie picturing soybeans and with a paper-weight shaped like a soybean pod. Thence came the education in Illinois agriculture.

"It grows above the ground," asked President Nixon in some surprise. "I thought they grew underground."

Findley, a veteran member of the House Agriculture Committee since equal to the occasion. He informed the President that soybeans do indeed grow above ground and in reply to a further question, told the President that peanuts do grow underground.

Growth defended

(Partial text of remarks by Harry T. Morley, Jr., principal speaker, at the 1973 annual meeting of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Nov. 8. He is executive vice president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.)

I feel impelled to say a few words about the idea of growth, because its virtues are becoming somewhat less self-evident than they once appeared to be.

Growth is no longer an altogether uncontroversial subject. There are good and intelligent people in this country who argue vigorously that more or less static physical environment, and a stable population and economic base, would help us to preserve the good things that we now have.

One version of this sentiment is the plea that St. Louis not be transformed into a smaller version of New York City; another is the fear that growth will destroy our natural resources.

Personally and in abstract terms, I have no quarrel with such ideas. Certainly, I prefer life in St. Louis to life in New York, and I do not want this region to become like New York.

Certainly none of us wants our natural environment to be ravaged. But the fact is that we do not live in abstraction. We live in the real world here and now.

It is part of the nature of our world that jobs and commerce and public resources are essential if people are to receive the services without which they cannot live in a civilized, decent fashion.

The only means of achieving such things and keeping pace with need, for the present and for the foreseeable future, is to expand the local economy and the local tax base.

This may or may not be the ideal situation, but it is the situation that exists and the one we must deal with. The people of St. Louis are like people everywhere; they cannot maintain their community without money.

Without an expanding economic base, our people will suffer. Ultimately our community will die. And if I may take the liberty of paraphrasing Sir Winston Churchill's words, I do not assume my present position with the Regional Commerce and Growth Association to oversee the disintegration of Greater St. Louis.

Some persons who recognize the community's need for money preserve their arguments against growth by proposing that we should draw upon outside help to provide services to our people.

We should turn to the state and federal governments, for example, for the tax revenues lost as a result of no growth in the local tax base, they contend.

Again, this idea may or may not have merit. I am not going to attempt to unravel its difficulties here except to point out two things.

The first is that it raises the question of where outside revenues would come from if most communities stopped growing. The second and more basic problem is the lack of realism in attempting to depend upon outside revenues.

At present there is no reason to think or hope that any external sources of public money will prove adequate to meet the public needs of the St. Louis area's population.

We need growth, therefore, but we need and must try to achieve good, orderly, well-planned growth that will help the region — without disrupting it or destroying the things that make it as pleasant as it is.

When young adults are referred from the trainable mentally handicapped or the educable mentally handicapped programs of the special education departments of our schools, we offer service to them from age 14 on a part-time basis.

The TMH program is incorporated in our work activity center. All referrals must go through our Intake Department; the public may call 465-4280 for information and an appointment for touring the facility.

We are funded by County Mental Health Board (708), Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Department of Health and contributing agencies.

Monies from contracts go to client wages and supplies. Since we have no income for new equipment, building improvements, maintenance and wage subsidy for minimally productive clients, we depend on grants and contributions for these necessities.

We are governed by a board of 25 directors, with equal representation from each community's Advisory Council. Specialized services include industrial contract work for major industries as well as private individuals.

These contracts include assembly, packaging of plastics and small items, sorting, mass repairing equipment, welding and sub-contract work. We build and repair pallets to customers' specifications and we train clients to order, assemble and pack.

We request community placement of our trainees who can do clerical tasks, domestic and janitorial work, yard work or labor. Information is available by calling our training center.

Our clients are ironing at our work activity center, 1712 Washington Ave., Alton, and our gift items are sold in our gift shop there.

VOCATIONAL SERVICE FOR THE HANDICAPPED

To the Editor:
On behalf of the trainees and staff of Specialized Services, I want to thank you for the publicity given to our open house this fall.

We were gratified at the response we had from the public. I am sure that many of those attending were made aware of our program by reading about it in the Granite City Press-Record.

The cooperation we received from you was greatly appreciated by the members of the community who are handicapped.

Specialized Services, Inc., is a non-profit vocational rehabilitation service agency for any handicapped individual over 16 years of age. The program includes evaluation, job training, community job placement, sheltered workshop facilities and a work activity center.

The professional staff provides counseling to our trainees and their families, as well as coordination of their housing and transportation. Evaluation counselors test and evaluate vocational goals and provide necessary "therapy" when needed for job placement within the community.

These adjustment personnel are especially trained within their specific work areas. The work activity staff includes remedial teachers, tutors, speech therapists, nurses and aides.

Those of our production staff are specialists in areas of contract procurement and development. These contracts provide training areas for our clients.

We accept referrals from any individual, doctor, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, schools, Department of Mental Health, Veterans Administration, probation officers, Social Security department or any cooperating agency to whom we can be of assistance.

When young adults are referred from the trainable mentally handicapped or the educable mentally handicapped programs of the special education departments of our schools, we offer service to them from age 14 on a part-time basis.

COUNTY COUNCIL WILL SEEK TRAFFIC SAFETY TO THE EDITOR:

At a meeting early this month of interested representatives of government, education, traffic commissions, the state highway patrol, organizations and courts, it was agreed to support the Governor's Traffic Safety Coordination Council through formation of county councils.

Because of the support demonstrated in that group, Madison County will promote such a council.

We hope to inform residents of the county that we are moving in a positive way to try to reverse the statistics of traffic accidents from trucks to tricycles.

Although the loss of life and property is monumental, the traumatic impact on those even remotely involved is a strong factor to support such a program.

At our next meeting in the Edwardsville courthouse, Courtroom 3, Dec. 3 at 2 p.m., we expect to organize into a council. National and state safety representatives will be there to assist and inform.

MRS. GLADYS HINE
Alton
President, Regional Illinois Conference of Women Leaders for Traffic Safety

DON'T CLOSE SCHOOLS DURING FUEL SHORTAGE

To the Editor:

I am solidly opposed to suggestions that schools close in winter to conserve energy. Why schools? Why not put conservation of our nation's children first—and cut down fuel consumption somewhere else?

The issue raises the question of politicians' sense of values.

It is absurd for those who are concerned about the nation's energy to discuss closing schools before such non-essential businesses as bowling alleys and theaters.

What are the priorities of this country if the first buildings closed in a fuel shortage are our schools?

My reaction came about as the first serious discussion of school program cutback began in an Illinois school district—the Rockford school system.

The Rockford School Board is at the discussion stage only. Plans which have been discussed include extending the Christmas vacation and curtailing after-school activities.

What about large shopping centers and stores that are currently open 12 hours a day? Why couldn't they be closed three hours daily?

Non-essential businesses could close three days a week.

It really comes down to what a nation values. It is more important that non signs keep blazing 24 hours a day, or that children receive their fair share of education?

When we are confronted with a crisis that requires the collective genius of our scientific community, it makes little sense to close the very institutions that are educating tomorrow's scientists.

If the energy consumed by millions of television sets and lights used by children without schools was calculated, it makes probably be double the energy required to keep schools open.

We will fight to keep schools open throughout the winter.

DR. CURTIS PLOTT
Executive Secretary, Illinois Education Association

Gov. Walker due here

Illinois Governor Daniel Walker is to appear here Tuesday night, Nov. 27, to hear what the people think about his administration.

He will answer questions by the public for about an hour, beginning at 7 p.m. at the cafeteria of Granite City High School-North.

Sponsors of the meeting are the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, and the Granite City Rotary and Optimist Clubs.

It will be the governor's 17th "accountability session" since he took office. Gov. Walker said he believes "the people should have a voice in what goes on in their government."

He has conducted such sessions twice in Chicago and once each in Moline, Rockford, Streator, Lockport, Peoria, Havana, Clinton, Kewanee, Paris, East St. Louis, Mount Vernon, Marion, Champaign and Hillsdale.

A large attendance at the Nov. 27 session is being sought here in drives conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, civic and service clubs and labor groups.

Moss said Friday he will continue to devote sufficient time to his duties as mayor of Pontoon Beach along with his other activities.

Moss also is a full-time night student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is involved eight hours each week in aiding the truancy program of Coordinated Youth Services. The program is part of an SIUE humanities requirement.

District I-G Governor Manuel Lopez will be the honored guest.

Two injured

The accident began when the brakes failed in the truck of Rainey Crawford, 134 Bremen Ave., Box 85, at the signal and the truck drove from the pavement, over the signal light and struck the rear of the car of Mattie Ebling, 61, of 1637 Delmar Ave. She and a passenger in her car, Marie Koertel, 67, of 1643 Delmar Ave., suffered minor injuries.

A side panel of the truck bed fell onto the cars, and a portion of the truck's load of dirt spilled onto the cars.

Madison board thanks parents

Appreciation of the efforts by parents of Madison High School students to solve problems that disrupted classes at the high school was expressed by the Madison Board of Education in its regular meeting Thursday night.

The board adopted a resolution which said that the school board "does hereby wish to extend its sincere thanks to those concerned parents who, by their efforts, assisted in helping to restore order, and in allowing us to continue with little delay the job of educating our students."

Similar resolutions of thanks to Chief of Police Frank Dutko, the Madison Police Department and the Madison County Sheriff's Department also were adopted.

Break-ins at Dunbar School where quantities of food were taken were discussed by the board. Some members said that if the burglaries continue, the school lunch program may need to be revised because food items could not be stored in the building.

The board approved the lowering of the price of milk in the cafeteria from nine cents to five cents due to increased milk subsidies by the government.

Superintendent John Palchett reported that the School-Community Relations Committee is continuing to meet and that a free flow of ideas and suggestions are proving helpful to the school administration.

Beginning today, thermostats in the school buildings will be set at 69 degrees between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on school days. On weekends, and holidays between 4 p.m. and 6 a.m. the buildings would be kept at 60 degrees, Palchett reported.

The Connelo and Dow Chemical tax appeal hearing date has been reset for 10 a.m. Dec. 10 at the Madison County courthouse in Edwardsville.

The Lions also will bring their Lionesses to dinner that evening. Serving will begin at 7 p.m.

Several membership awards in addition to certificates of appreciation will be given out.

Claude Echols and Al Bakos will be presented 30-year membership pins.

The accident began when the brakes failed in the truck of Rainey Crawford, 134 Bremen Ave., Box 85, at the signal and the truck drove from the pavement, over the signal light and struck the rear of the car of Mattie Ebling, 61, of 1637 Delmar Ave. She and a passenger in her car, Marie Koertel, 67, of 1643 Delmar Ave., suffered minor injuries.

A side panel of the truck bed fell onto the cars, and a portion of the truck's load of dirt spilled onto the cars.

GC Army recruiters win honors

October was good month for Army recruiters in Granite City.

Sergeant First Class Tom Sparks, station commander of the Granite City Recruiting Station, 1206 Niedringhaus Ave., announced that the local station was named "Station of the Month" and that local recruiter, Sergeant John Keene, was named "Recruiter of the Month" for October.

According to Sparks, the Granite City Recruiting Station topped 50 other recruiting stations in a two-state area in enlisting more people in the Volunteer Army.

Sgt. Keene, assigned to recruiting duty here six months ago, gained honors as top recruiter over a field of 180 Army recruiters in the same two-state area.

The Granite City Recruiting Station is part of the St. Louis Recruiting District, which covers a 60,000 square-mile area in eastern Missouri and southern Illinois.

SFC Sparks, who became station commander in October, attributes the success of his station to two things.

"The recent pay raise for Armed Forces personnel, in addition to such benefits as the cash bonus option and the two year 'Training or Travel' option, have made enlistment in the Army more attractive to the young people," he said. "The most significant factor, I firmly believe, is the outstanding cooperation we've received from the good citizens of Granite City and the surrounding area. Without their help, we couldn't have done it. We owe them the biggest 'thank you' of all."

The Christmas concert will be held at 8 p.m. on Dec. 6. Bussing of senior citizens is being arranged by Jack Johnson, former band president.

Owens also announced plans for the stage band concerts to be held in the new South High School auditorium Jan. 10 and May 14.

William McPain, band president, asked the band parents for assistance in the refreshment stands when the St. Louis Playboys Bunnies oppose the Madison County Sheriff's Department at a benefit basketball game at the South High School on Dec. 16.

Write plan for training center

A program development statement regarding a proposed $2 million pollution control operator training center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be submitted by SIUE to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) in about ten days.

Earl E. Lazerson, dean of the School of Science and Technology and coordinator of the training center project, reports that an agreement to start the planning phase for the training center was reached at a meeting of SIUE administrators and IEPA representatives on the local campus.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, announced at the meeting that Dean Lazerson will be the SIUE coordinator for the project.

Lazerson said the program development statement will cover the nature of the program and the kind of facility proposed. Gov. Dan Walker announced Oct. 24 that the state will make available up to $2 million from the Illinois Anti-Pollution Bond Issue for construction of the training center.

The IEPA representatives, Michael P. Maury and Ernest C. Bennett, indicated that all of the grant from the state will be used for construction of the training center. Additional funds will be required for operating the facility and program.

John M. Marco, acting director of the IEPA, said in a letter to President Rendleman, "The IEPA is both willing and desirous of assisting in development of the training center and in continuing involvement in training programs and curriculum development."

Lazerson said details of the proposed center and program will be released after they have been approved by the state.

Rettig-Burton nuptials at 1st Baptist Church

The wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Burton and David Joseph Rettig was solemnized in a double ring ceremony on Nov. 17 at the First Baptist Church in Granite City.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burton, 2949 Madison Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rettig, 7726 Portland, East St. Louis.

Large bouquets of white gladiolus and mums in tall vases and burning tapers in branched candelabra at the altar and lining the white carpeted aisle created the setting for the 6:30 p.m. service performed by the Rev. Ray Eitelman.

A program of nuptial music was played by Suzanne Ziemba at the organ. Jack Cygan, soloist, sang "Sunrise, Sunset."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Chantrelle gown designed with a fitted bodice featuring long tapered sleeves. Pearl necklace, Chantrelle formed scallops around the Sabrina neckline.

The long skirt was a cascade of scalloped ruffles, sweeping into a cathedral train, and she chose a lace Juliet cap etched with seed pearls to secure her elbow length veil. The bridal bouquet was made up of white carnations, yellow roses and baby breath.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Nesbit, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Misses Kathy and Marcia Rettig, sisters of the groom, Miss Susie Switzer and Mrs. Valerie Delaney.

They were gowned alike in floral taffeta dresses in autumn shades, accented with brown velvet jumper style bodices.

The long sleeves had deep self fabric cuffs and the high necklines were marked with a tiny ruffle. Narrow ruffles were repeated on the A-line skirts, creating an apron effect.

Cooper-DeGerla engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeGerla of Elsberry, Mo., are announcing the engagement of Mrs. DeGerla's daughter, Miss Anna Marie DeGerla, to William Craig Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Cooper, 4212 Maryville Rd.

The bride-elect also is the daughter of the late Clyde DeGerla.

A graduate of East Alton-Wood River High School, Miss DeGerla attended Nebraska State College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She presently is employed by Olin Corp.

Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet of elegance carnations, blue straw flowers, baby breath and red carnations.

Tammy Morris, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a long white tulle dress with a high lace neckline and long sleeves. The shirred skirt was accented at the hemline with a lace flounce. Her flowers were a miniature bridal bouquet.

Jimmy Burton, the bride's nephew, served as ringbearer. Bill Cramer was best man. Groomsman and ushers included Danny Delaney, Dennis Dressel, Al Smith, Bradley Rettig, the groom's brother, Bill Burton, a brother of the bride, and Bob Wirth.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony at Long Lake Firemen's Hall.

After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains in Tennessee, the couple will reside in O'Fallon, Ill.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School and Joseph's School of Beauty Culture. Her husband was graduated from Assumption High School in East St. Louis. He is employed at Cerro Copper and Brass Co.

Out-of-town guests were Robert Burton and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bush of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Burton of Eldora, Iowa.

Mrs. Burton, mother of the bride, was attired in an aqua blue polyester sheath gown with a high neckline edged in a lace ruffle. Lace formed a decorative trim on the bodice and the short sleeves. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Rettig, chose a ruby red formal length dress with short sleeves, complemented with silver accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Sheryl Ann Hancock and Stephen Marks are wed

St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on Oct. 19 of Miss Sheryl Ann Hancock and Stephen J. Marks.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Michael Zeffoff, 10 Butternut Lane, Edwardsville, and Robert D. Hancock, 1553 Gardavia Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marks, 1701 Vandell St., Collinsville.

The Rev. Robert L. Kettlehut officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening before an altar adorned with arrangements of white pom-poms tipped pink and purple, interspersed with baby breath and greenery.

Musical selections included "The Wedding Song," "Sunrise Sunset" and "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," played by the church organist. Soloist was Miss Judy Kahn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of lace over taffeta designed with a high neckline, full sleeves and natural waistline.

The slightly gathered skirt was made in a redogee effect, featuring tiers of ruffles in the front. Her mantilla lace veil extended into chapel length and the carried a cascade of pink roses, baby breath and greenery accented with white pearls.

No turkey shortage

There will be no shortage of turkeys this Thanksgiving, The nation's turkey growers have reared 132 million birds for market this year—up two per cent over last year.

Turkey prices will be higher than last year, however, because of an unexpected surge in demand for turkey as the price of beef skyrocketed last summer.

Depending on the area of the country and the kind of bird purchased, the price may range from 58 to 89 cents a pound—about 30 cents a pound more than last season.

During June, July and August, consumers were buying more turkey than last year as food retailers filled their empty meat cases with turkeys. That heavy demand has now been translated into higher turkey prices, despite a bumper crop.

The heavy demand has also led to the rise in feed prices, affecting all meat prices. Corn and soybean meal, the main constituents of a turkey's diet, have risen over last year—corn by 50 cents a bushel and soybean meal by $40 a ton.

Fifteen states, led by Minnesota, California and North Carolina, produce 98 per cent of the turkey crop each year.

Minnesota alone has grown 23 million turkeys this year, up from 18 million in 1972.

Here are three ways to get the best available price: Buy a tom turkey (hens can run 8 to 10 cents a pound higher); buy a bird without the extras ("premium" birds that are pre-

Chapter confers exemplar degree to visit here

"How to Get What We Want" was the topic of the program given by Mary Herr. Mrs. Rains read verses from the Book of Psalms relating to the subject and group discussion followed.

Earlier in the week, chapter members hosted a dinner party and pledge ceremony at Charlie's Restaurant for Mrs. Martha Jean Dyer.

The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Rains. She was assisted by Mrs. Ebling and Mrs. Jane Laule, who escorted the new member.

Others taking part were Jean Drube, May Ebling, Imogene Forrest, Arlene Haldeman, Mary Herr, Linda Koenig, Lora Lombardi, Ruth Stoyanoff, Evelyn Tolliver, Pat Tsigajoff, Delores Dorch and an honorary member, Lucille Voyles.

Crow-Frost wedding at Bethel Chapel Church

Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church was the scene of the evening wedding on Nov. 9 of Miss Wanda Frost, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Frost, 2306 Logan Ave., and Bruce Crow, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Crow, 2424 Bryan Ave.

Branches candelabra holding burning tapers illuminated the aisle and sanctuary for the 7:30 double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Clifton Gailher.

Lighting the candles were Lori Crow, a sister of the groom, and Vicki Johnson.

Miss Luena Keeton, organist, played the "Theme from Romeo and Juliet" and accompanied Miss Cynthia Rea as she sang "The Twelfth of Never," "More," "The Wedding Prayer" and "For All We Know."

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of Chantilly lace, featuring a square neckline and sheer yoke etched with seed pearls. The bodice came to a point in front at the natural waistline and was accented with lace roses. The long straight sleeves terminated at wrists in points over the hands.

A full bouffant skirt fell softly into a chapel length train and she wore a camelot headpiece to secure a full length veil edged in matching lace. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, gardenias and variegated pittosporum.

Miss Sandra Simmons, maid of honor, and Mrs. Rich Magary, Mrs. Jerry Fuller, Mrs. Rich Passig and Miss Marsha Frost, a sister of the bride, bridesmaids, carried frocks of royal blue velvet made with long gathered skirts.

Long sleeves with wide cuffs trimmed with white lace and pearl buttons were set into the modified Empire bodices and the high necklines were edged in matching lace.

All the attendants carried small bouquets of royal blue corsages attached to white muffs.

The flower girl, Cindy Lindsay, wore a dress similar in style to the adult attendants' frocks and held a basket of rose petals. She was escorted by Robert Lindsay, ringbearer, a cousin of the bride.

Rich Passig served as best man. Groomsmen were Keith Filer, Jerry Fuller, Gary Ellis and Tom Stewart. Seating the guests were Mike Gearhart, the bride's cousin, Brian Crow, a brother of the groom, and Bill Brimm.

Miss Sue Trucks registered guests at a reception in the fellowship hall of Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church. The groom was host at a rehearsal dinner given in the home of the bride's parents.

Kimberly Gearhart, a cousin of the bride, distributed rice packets at the reception.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds will reside at 2315 Logan Ave.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School. Mr. Crow is now employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in St. Louis.

Mrs. Frost, mother of the bride, selected a full length gown of dark blue knit in a textured floral design trimmed with white nylon lace and white satin buttons. Her ensemble was complemented with matching accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Crow, wore a formal length dress of aqua soft satin made with chiffon sleeves and enhanced with white lace and velvet ribbon trim. Her accessories were in silver. Both mothers wore corsages of gardenias and pink roses.

Make centerpiece for Thanksgiving

By ALICE MORRELL

About this time of year it's nice to look back on our year and count our many blessings. I think you will find this centerpiece is in keeping with that thought and hope you will find it fun to make.

You will need two milk cartons or two sheets of 14-inch-by-22-inch posterboard. You will also need paper to cover your cardboard base, card-board, corks, wooden beads, masking tape, glue, scissors, scrap material, ruler, pencil and felt tip pens.

To start the Thanksgiving centerpiece, cut a piece of cardboard 9 by 12 inches. This is the base. Cover this with either brown wrapping paper, material or metallic wrapping paper (I chose the last). Any of these will do nicely.

There are two ways to make the church. Easiest is to use two milk cartons (1-quart size). Cover one with metallic paper and glue where you desire on your base. Cut the other to four inches, cover with metallic paper and glue to the base in back of the steeple. Add the roofs, following directions below.

To make a steeple of poster-board, cut a piece of 11 by 11 inches, divide this into four 2 1/2-inch panels and leave one-inch panel for overlap. Score the side lines for easier folding. Fold the four sections and hold together with masking tape. Cover the steeple with metallic foil, then cut up 1/4 inch on the bottom corner, fold under and glue to base. (Fig. 1)

Measure another piece of posterboard with four 2 1/2-inch panels. Measure the two outside panels to be 3 1/2 inches long and the two inside panels to measure 6 inches long. Be sure to put the extra inches on the opposite ends to fold over for bottom sections as in Fig. 2. Fold and seal with masking tape. Cover with paper and glue to base in back of the steeple.

To make the roof for the church, cut a piece of poster board four by six inches, fold so the roof is four inches long and three inches high, cover with paper and attach with masking tape as in Fig. 1. To make the steeple roof cut a circle 10 inches across, mark four panels to measure 3 1/2 inches at the bottom leaving an inch for overlap as in Fig. 3. Score and fold and attach together with masking tape. Cover with a different colored paper and attach to the steeple. Make doors and windows of different papers and glue into place.

To make people, use construction paper cones around corks to form ladies. I use wooden beads for heads and attach them with pieces of pipe cleaners and glue into place. To make men make tubes of construction paper around corks and a wide cone for their coats (Fig. 4). I use such things as thimbles and plastic toothpaste tube caps for the hats, tiny bits of wool yarn for hair and bits of lace for the ladies' dresses. Dressing them is lots of fun.

Place your people on the base around the church and you can add dried flowers and even tiny stones to give your centerpiece a more pleasing appearance. Try dressing your people in Pilgrim costumes, Amish or just early American. This is a good project for ladies' luncheons, school, and even Brownie groups with a little assistance. Experiment and have fun.

Mrs. Mary Lee Busler, commander, welcomed the new member and also installed Mrs. Stella Miller as unit banner bearer, replacing a member who recently moved from the community.

Due to the national emergency crisis, the group voted to convene only once each month, instead of semi-monthly, starting in January.

Money orders will be sent to members' sons who are in the Armed Forces as Christmas gifts. Mrs. Busler said. A holiday party was planned for Dec. 20 and a business meeting was set for Dec. 6.

Mrs. Norma Darnell won the "mystery" package and a special gift was received by Mrs. Norma Kinder. Thirteen members attended the meeting.

Five strollers, a Boston rocker, a wagon and two cushion seats have been donated to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Alpha Xi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority. It was announced by Mrs. Carol Grimm at a meeting last week.

Mrs. Gerry Mendez, president, was in charge.

Mrs. Joyce Albers reviewed the Christmas card and gift item sales program now in progress and said an auction will be held at the chapter's holiday party at Skaggs Restaurant, East Alton.

Members entertained young adults from the Tri-City Aid to Retarded organization at a Halloween party. Mrs. Grupos reported. Refreshments were served and $25 was presented to the group towards the purchase of a sewing machine.

A $35 donation was voted to obtain eye glasses for a local student through Coordinated Vocational Services. Christmas wrapping paper and ribbons will be contributed to the Madison County Mental Health Clinic as a December project, along with 12 homemade drums to be given to the Salvation Army.

A total of $1,095 was collected by teenage volunteers in the Alton Teenager March in Edwardsville.

Planned as a future activity was a "come as you are" party at the home of Mrs. Betty Colligan in Edwardsville.

"Conforming to the 1973-74 theme 'Happiness is the World of Music' the program was devoted to 'Rock-N-Roll' and presented by Mrs. Mendez.

Others at the meeting were Betty Busch, Mary Firtos, Pat Lalich, Sue Sansarian, Barbara Orris, Mary Modica, Kathy Dohal and a former member, Marilyn Schooley.

BPW to honor past presidents

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club will honor past presidents at a special dinner event at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Holy Trinity Hall, 1245 Madison Ave.

To honor all past executives of the business women's organization, the Granite City Club will purchase a $500 U. S. Savings Bond for the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Mrs. Lillie Marzluft, BPW president, reported.

The local club was organized in November 1921 and during the 52 years of its existence, a total of 32 women has served as president, she noted.

In observance of the anniversary a special "Past Presidents' Night" program has been planned, Mrs. Marzluft said. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Ruth Milbrouser and Mrs. Rebecca Slate.

Lower speed will save fuel, lives

By MARY LOU MANNING
Springfield—To drive 50 or 55 miles per hour—that is the question. But the answer doesn't make much difference. Whether we follow President Nixon's proposal to lower the speed limit to 50 miles per hour or increase our decreased limit to 55 as suggested by Gov. Daniel Walker, the important thing—as far as fuel and safety are concerned—is the fact that they may be lowered at all. It has already been shown that reducing speed saves on gasoline consumption, and it has been shown for some years how reducing speed saves lives. For example, a study conducted by the Journal of American Insurance indicated that the odds turn sharply against the driver as he passes the 50 miles per hour mark. Increasing his speed from 55 to 65 mph doubles his chances of being killed if involved in an accident, while at 75 mph the fatality odds increase to a staggering 600 per cent.

Using numbers instead of odds, that's 25 persons killed per 1,000 auto accidents at 55 mph, 50 persons per 1,000 at 65 mph, and 125 fatalities per 1,000 at 75 mph.

If you need more persuasion for lowering the limits, consider these hazards created by speed: The old rule-of-thumb that remaining one car length behind the guy in front for each 10 miles you are traveling is a lot of hogwash, according to a report from the Illinois State Police.

This rule might have been true when speed limits were considerably lower. For example, at 50 mph the average driver can slam on his brakes for a panic stop and bring his vehicle to a halt in about 16 car lengths or 367 feet.

But the same driver traveling 60 mph will take about 24 car lengths or 404 feet to come to that same stop—an increase of about 51 per cent.

That's just for daytime driving, too. After the sun goes down, the increase in stopping becomes even more pronounced.

The Uniform Vehicle Code specifies that auto headlamps be so aimed and of such intensity as to reveal persons and vehicles at a distance of at least 350 feet ahead.

That is slightly more than the distance needed to stop a car traveling at 55. At 60, it is highly unlikely that a motorist could stop in time to avoid hitting a stationary object.

Other factors affected by speed are driver reaction time and speed estimating ability. The distance traveled in a driver's reaction time—about .75 seconds—increases with speed.

For instance, at 60 mph a car length can be covered in the time it takes to blink an eye.

A pedestrian's ability to judge the speed of an oncoming vehicle decreases with speed. He is three and one-half times as likely to misjudge the speed of a vehicle approaching at 60 mph than at 20 mph.

Field of vision and vehicle acceleration capabilities also are related to speed. A driver addicted to increased speed by focusing his eyes at farther forward distances, thus narrowing his field of clear vision.

Sometimes the only practical means of avoiding an accident—vehicle acceleration—is impaired as the speed increases. Research has shown as many as 78 per cent of drivers tested will underestimate the distance needed to pass a lead car traveling at 50 mph.

These facts will probably be filed under the category, "Yes, but it will never happen to me." Considering it did happen to 2,400 Illinoisans last year—with another 155,000 injured—perhaps the realm of possibility should be taken seriously.

Electricity plan lauded

Union Electric Co. last week was awarded a 1973 Environmental Service Award by Conway Research, Inc., for its participation in an experimental project in which City of St. Louis refuse is burned to generate electricity.

The awards are made annually for "significant achievement in the harmonizing of economic development with sound conservation principles."

The trash-burning test project is a cooperative venture between Union Electric, the City of St. Louis and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Up to a third (300 tons per day) of the city's refuse is processed, and the combustible waste is trucked to UE's Meramec power plant in South St. Louis County where it is burned, with coal, to generate electricity.

The project saves on coal, a natural resource, as well as landfill space.

It soon will be expanded so that ferrous waste extracted from the trash will be remelted in place of another natural resource, iron ore, in blast furnaces at Granite City Steel.

Steel import value rises

The declared per ton value of steel imported during the first nine months of 1973 was substantially higher than it was during the comparable period of last year.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported last week that foreign steel landed in this country through September had an average declared value of $180.48 per ton. This compares with a nine month, 1972, average declared value of $157.62 per ton.

According to government data, 1,075,000 tons of steel imports arrived at U.S. ports during September. This raised total steel imports through the first nine months of 1973 to 11,511,000 tons, or 6.7 per cent less than the 12,338,000 tons which landed in the U.S. during the comparable period of last year.

Imports of certain specialty steels, however, are up over 1972. Through the first nine months of this year, foreign shipments of tool steels were running 52 per cent ahead of last year's pace, while alloy steel imports were up 5 per cent.

Despite the fact that overall imports were down, foreign steel shipments into the Gulf Coast-Mexican border region and to off-shore U.S. ports also showed slight increases over the first three quarters of 1972.

By the end of September, the 1973 U.S. trade deficit in steel mill products had reached $1,407,454,000.

Red Cross policies in Mid-East war outlined

A review of present American Red Cross policies and activities of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) in relation to the Middle East conflict was heard last week by directors of the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary, reported that ICRC representatives began supervising the exchange of Israeli and Egyptian prisoners of war Thursday.

The operation involving an estimated 8,000 Egyptian soldiers and close to 400 Israeli troops is expected to be completed this week.

International Red Cross delegates stationed for some weeks in Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Lebanon, and Israel were directly involved in the prisoner exchange negotiations, Mrs. Overbeck advised.

Governments involved in the conflict were reminded of their obligations under the Geneva Conventions by the ICRC, which gave top priority to three treaty mandates—securing lists of prisoners, visiting prisoners and the repatriation of severely wounded prisoners, directors were informed.

The International Committee was successful in receiving initial POW lists from Israeli and Egyptian authorities and ICRC delegates were permitted to visit the prisoners in Israel, Egypt and Lebanon during the negotiating period.

J. C. Margandant of the Netherlands Red Cross Society was assigned to the ICRC for fund raising and liaison with national societies throughout the world.

The American Red Cross will accept cash donations for support of Red Cross relief activities in the Middle East, but is not conducting a fund drive nor soliciting contributions at this time, Mrs. Overbeck said.

Individuals offering to volunteer their services or supplies to any of the countries concerned are being referred to the appropriate embassy.

Since many Americans have offered to donate blood in behalf of victims of the conflict, American Red Cross regional blood centers have been advised that the ARC will meet official requests for blood or blood products to the best of its ability.

Blood centers are to accept blood donations either on behalf of all the victims of the Middle East conflict or for a specific nation involved, Mrs. Overbeck said.

If blood is donated in behalf of victims of the hostilities, but requests for shipment are not received, the blood will be used to meet transfusion needs in the communities where the donations originated, she said.

An airplane carrying six specialists in radio, logistics and relief were sent by the ICRC from Switzerland. The plane's seven-ton cargo contained emergency medical supplies, 1,000 doses of blood plasma and radio equipment.

The ICRC set up a base of operation in Nicosia, Cyprus, and stored some supplies in its own warehouse in Beirut, Lebanon.

Additional emergency action since has been taken, particularly through the provision of medical and surgical teams in cooperation with national societies in the Middle East, ARC officials reported.

At the present time, it is not possible for the American Red Cross to handle health and welfare inquiries about individuals in the war area, Mrs. Overbeck advised. Concerned individuals should attempt to reach their relatives through commercial facilities.

Overseas telephones are in operation in all of the countries involved, although considerable delays can be anticipated in putting through calls. Cables, radio, and telex also are in operation, again with some delays, although in some areas delivery of messages cannot be guaranteed.

Addresses where cables may be sent for information concerning Americans, Israelis, Egyptians, Lebanese, Syrians, Jordanians and Iraqis may be obtained from the Red Cross office, 1411 Twenty-first St., or by calling 452-7184.

In other reports at the local ARC board meeting, Mrs. Overbeck said 125 contacts were made during October, including six emergency leave reporting, five health-welfare reports, 30 other reports, 63 counseling, four financial assistance, 11 service reports and seven information only requests.

Fuller to open seminar

R. Buckminster Fuller, visiting professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be the keynote speaker Jan. 4 for the start of the University Seminar there. The choice of Fuller as keynote was announced Friday by Gov. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president.

The University Seminar is a new forum for interdisciplinary study and discussion of serious problems facing society. The topic selected for the current academic year is "Shaping the Environment."

Fuller is a "philosopher, engineer, poet, mathematician, futurist, revolutionary visionary and maverick architect without portfolio." Recognized and written about throughout the world, he has received 26 honorary degrees, including one from Oxford University in England.

He is best known as the developer of the geodesic dome. One of the largest of these domes was constructed for the Union Tank Car Co. at Wood River and is 384 feet in diameter.

The Religious Center at SIUE, designed by Fuller, is topped by a geodesic dome tilted to show the world's water and land masses.

Fuller also is known for his tetrahedron floating city concept—building entire cities in modular components. He has proposed a dome city for the East St. Louis riverfront.

Fuller was named university professor on the SIUE faculty in 1968. He first joined the faculty at Carbondale in 1959 as a professor of design science and moved to the local campus in July 1972. Earlier this year he became a visiting professor, lecturing at the university at various times.

Faculty members from the Schools of Business, Education, Fine Arts, Humanities, Science and Technology and Social Science will be members of the seminar. Each school will have one representative, selected by Dr. Rendleman from slates of three to be nominated by the individual schools.

Faculty selected will receive a $600 honorarium for their contributions to the seminar. Each faculty member will designate an outstanding student to be known as a Presidential Scholar; the students will assist in presentations of the seminar and each will receive a $200 stipend.

Seminar sessions will be held throughout the year, each school having an opportunity to make a presentation dealing with the environmental theme. Cooperative approaches within academic disciplines will be encouraged.

The entire university community and the public will be invited to attend seminar sessions and participate in the proceedings of the seminar. "It will present the public with the best we have to offer on matters of both current and perennial interest," the president said.

New Illinois environment agency head

Gov. Dan Walker on Thursday appointed Jeffrey R. Diver of Waukegan as acting director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Diver replaces John M. Marco, who resigned to work in Abner J. Mikva's congressional campaign.

Diver joined the EPA as chief legal counsel in July. He was appointed deputy director last month.

He was previously an attorney in Waukegan and a member of Gov. Walker's Transition Task Force, working with the Department of Revenue.

Circuit court reducing backlog

The Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville held an unusually large caseload during October in an attempt to reduce the number of cases outstanding, according to a report issued Thursday by Willard V. Portell, court clerk. Portell noted that 5,455 cases were terminated during October, about 2,000 cases higher than normal for the month in past years. Law cases seeking settlements over $15,000 with demands for jury trials increased as 52 were filed last month. The normal monthly average is 40 to 45. "Despite this, we are holding pace," the clerk said. "In all other categories except felony cases, we are doing very well in disposing of these cases. We had a large month in small claims again where 2,281 cases were terminated," he said. In the felony cases, 70 were terminated in October while 101 new cases were filed, increasing the load of pending felony cases from 107 at the beginning of October to 198 at the end of the month. A sizeable backlog also exists in law cases. Law cases seeking settlements over $15,000 in jury trials increased during the month from 1,021 Oct. 1 to 1,024 on Oct. 31. The number for non-jury trials declined from 313 to 310. The smaller law cases, seeking from $1,000 to $15,000, showed reductions in October. Those demanding jury trial declined from a backlog of 547 to 538 and those not requiring a jury went from 257 to 255. The backlog for all types of cases declined sharply from 7,525 Oct. 1 to 5,685 Oct. 31. "Chief Judge Fred P. Schuman, Chief Associate Judge D. Kent Trone and I are very well pleased with this report. We will continue our effort to keep the cases as current as possible," Portell concluded.

Book for motorists improved

By MARY LOU MANNING Springfield—It's unkind not to be kind to the kindly people working for kind Michael Howlett. After all, it's the kind of job where you have to be kind. And their kindness is the kind of kindness you can't hardly find in this kind of society, short of Disneyland. And it's even being carried over to the new kind of "Rules of the Road."

The history of kindness in the office of the secretary of state goes back of like this. On Oct. 29, Howlett announced that two posters have been placed in driver examining stations throughout the state. They are replacing pictures of public officials. One poster reads: "As a taxpayer, you pay our salaries. You are entitled to prompt, courteous service. If you do not feel you are receiving this service, please contact me toll free 800-252-8860." Now come the newly revised "Rules of the Road" with a convenient form on the back of a self-addressed, postage paid post-card inserted in the middle of the booklet. Directed to those persons who have recently contacted Howlett's office for information or service, it urges them to comment on the type of service received. A space is provided for compliments or complaints regarding an individual and his name. Disregard for the kind-

Evelyn Bowles in clerk bid

Miss Evelyn Bowles, 52, has announced her candidacy on the Democratic ticket for Madison County clerk. Miss Bowles presently is chief deputy in the county clerk's office; she has held the position for the past 22 years. She was born in Worden, Ill., and attended elementary and high schools in Livingston. She attended Illinois State University, Greenville College and SIU as well as Southwest Photo Arts Institute. After teaching in area schools for two years she enlisted in the Spars (United States Coast Guard Women's Reserve) and served in the Intelligence Division. She became a deputy in the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz in August 1961. Miss Bowles is a member of the Edwardsville Business and Professional Women's Club, American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Daughters of Isabella, Heart Fund, Cancer Societies and Audubon Society. She is a Democratic precinct committeewoman and past county chairlady. In announcing her candidacy, Miss Bowles said, "I will continue the type of service for which the office is known. My decision to be a candidate was not lightly made. The responsibilities of the office of county clerk are extremely demanding, but I feel my experience qualifies me to meet the challenge. I will be most grateful for the support of the Democratic party of Madison County."

CAPTURES BURGLAR Larry York, 2609 Lynch Ave., captured a juvenile whom he said was leaving his home after a burglary. Three other youths fled the scene. York said he returned home to find his front screen door and door unlocked and heard noises in the home. He called police and a neighbor's telephone and then returned to his house to hear a rear window breaking. He ran into the back yard where he caught the one juvenile. A kindly gesture, indeed.

Disservice to River Fest by Telegraph-Rendleman

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, on Thursday assailed "inept and unprofessional reporting" by the Alton Telegraph, saying it "has done a gross disservice" to the Mississippi River Festival. The charge was made in a letter Rendleman sent to Stephen A. Cousey, editor of the Telegraph. The Telegraph carried a story by Doug Thompson Nov. 13 alleging that the university has not reported indirect costs above and beyond a contract providing that the MRF, Inc., pay $40,000 to the university for direct expenses involved in hosting the 1975 festival on the SIUE campus. In the same edition, the Telegraph carried an editorial saying, "New questions of credibility involving SIUE relationships with the Mississippi River Festival have arisen," and that "$40,000 in additional costs, such as security overtime hitherto unreported publicly" had been incurred.

Dr. Rendleman's letter cited a story in the Telegraph June 8, following a meeting of the SIUE Board at which the MRF contract was discussed, in which Thompson wrote that the SIUE president had told the board the university would have indirect costs of "about $100,000" over and above the $40,000 it would receive under the contract with MRF. The June story also included a quotation from Rendleman that "the staff estimates it costs the university about $80,000 a year, to maintain and use the tent site for other campus events," meaning the university spends an extra sum of about $20,000 to subsidize the festival, Dr. Rendleman said. The president wrote, "If the report in your own columns is not sufficient to restore the university's credibility in this regard, let me add that the processes of the meeting were recorded on tape. You or your agent are more than welcome to listen to these tapes. 'The credibility problem in this matter is the inept, inconsistent reporting of the Telegraph, along with editorial comment based on such shoddy work,'" Dr. Rendleman asserted.

Arch, courthouse closed Thursday

Superintendent Ivan D. Parker, Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, and Elmer W. Belew, executive director, Bi-State Development Agency, have announced that the Old Courthouse, 11 North Fourth St., and the Gateway Arch will be closed on Thanksgiving Day so that both National Park Service and Bi-State employees will be able to spend the holiday with their families, and also to help save energy during the current crisis. Superintendent Parker reported that both the Arch and the Old Courthouse will open again on Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Belew added, as a reminder to visitors, that the trains operate from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily. The Arch and Old Courthouse also will be closed Christmas and New Year's Days.

Weidner again heads Explorers

William Weidner, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Weidner, 1030 Washington Ave., Madison, was re-elected president of Explorer Post 10-4 at the group's meeting last week in the Madison Police station. Other officers elected were Jack Small, first vice-president; Jeff Tolliver, second vice-president; Kevin Kearns, secretary, and David Jefferies, treasurer. An officers' training course and program planning meeting for 1974 will be held for the officers Jan. 4, 5 and 6 at Lampe, Mo., where they will spend the weekend as guests of actor George Lindsey at Table Rock lake. Attending the meeting were 30 Explorers and 14 guests. Post 10-4 began its fifth year of operation Nov. 1. The unit is sponsored by the Madison Police Department and the Madison Lions Club.

Consumerists, legal aides to help public

The volunteer consumer advocates to be added to state boards and commissions were legally possible are intended to "protect and advance the public interest."

At the same time he disclosed the plan last week, Gov. Daniel Walker announced a joint program between the state and the Legal Assistance Fund to begin a legal aid partnership.

Goal of the partnership is to "improve people's access to legal services and help solve people's problems where governmental agencies are involved."

Gov. Walker said the partnership includes an affirmative policy of cooperation with legal aid attorneys by the state and all its agencies, working with the Legal Assistance Fund, which is affiliated with the Illinois Bar Association.

The consumer program will be directed by Mrs. Celina Maloney of Chicago, consumer advocate for the state.

The legal aid program will be directed by Atty. Wesley S. Walton of Chicago, president of the Illinois Legal Assistance Fund.

In all, 50 advisory boards and commissions with regulatory powers will have a consumer advocate as an ex-officio member whose tasks will be to represent the public.

Gov. Walker said: "Too many boards and commissions simply represent special interests, even though the purpose of the board is to safeguard the rights of the public."

"These boards and commissions either directly or indirectly affect our everyday lives."

"While the consumer advocates will not be able to vote, they can make recommendations and they can focus the spotlight on areas that could stand improvement."

Regarding the legal aid program, Walker said: "The first step will be the development and publication of guidelines to establish a working relationship between the state and legal aid offices."

A steering committee composed of representatives of the legal assistance fund and representatives of various departments and agencies will meet periodically to work out details.

"Almost everyone has a story to tell about government red tape—the problems of getting a business license, computer mix-ups, tax as a freshman at the university."

"Some of the problems are straightforward out with a minimum of difficulty. Others are so complex that a lawyer is required. This places a serious hardship on people who cannot afford a lawyer."

"They should not be deprived of what they are entitled to. We are taking steps to make sure special agencies dealing with the public are sensitive to the special problems of poor people."

"But when a lawyer is required, we will encourage people to seek legal help if they can afford it, and legal aid help when they cannot."

"We will do whatever we can to make sure that no one is treated peremptorily because he cannot afford an attorney."

The legal assistance fund attorneys will remain free and independent of any government influence, the governor said. Their job will be to represent people, not state government, he added.

BURGLARY ON LYNCH Burglars entered the home of Tony Vesel, 2423 Lynch Ave., by breaking a window on the east side of the house, it was reported at 8:15 a.m. Friday.

Pry marks were noted on all the rear windows and the door handle on the west side of the house was broken but entry attempts at all those points had been unsuccessful, it was reported. An inventory was being taken to determine if anything was stolen. Footprints outside of a window indicated two burglars may have been involved.

50 speed limit for state cars

Gov. Dan Walker has issued the following directive to all departments, boards and commissions under his jurisdiction, reducing the speed limit for state-owned cars from 55 miles per hour to 50 m.p.h., in order to be consistent with a similar federal directive, it was announced Friday.
